

30 Years Initiative

Date: May 6, 2021

The panel discussion on 30 years of the Open Society Foundations in the Balkans with prominent speakers from Slovenia will be held online on 6 May 2021, hosted by the Peace Institute in Ljubljana. It will be held in Slovenian language for local audience. Video recording of the panel discussion with English subtitles will be published later in May and promoted in separate announcement.

The speakers will include:

Rastko Močnik, sociologist, former professor at the Faculty of Arts, University of Ljubljana,

Tanja Renner, sociologist, professor at the Faculty of Social Sciences, University of Ljubljana,

Lev Kreft, philosopher, former professor at the Faculty of Arts, University of Ljubljana,

Vlasta Jalušič, political scientist, researcher at the Peace Institute,

Slavko Gaber, sociologist, professor at the Faculty of Education, University of Ljubljana,

Anica Mikuš Kos, pediatrician, psychiatrist and humanitarian, president of Slovenian Philanthropy,

Barbara Borčič, art historian and curator at SCCA-Ljubljana, Institute for Contemporary Art,

Sandra Bašič Hrvatin, communication scientist, professor at the Faculty of Humanities, University of Primorska,

Danica Purg, political scientist, founder and director of the IEDC-Bled School of Business, and Beka Vučo, founder and president of 'My Balkans', former regional director for Western Balkans within Open Society Foundations.

